

from PIVIT Global

WHITE PAPER:

Wireless Services

Wireless access to business-critical services and applications is vital in the modern office, production facility or warehouse environment.

In many cases, hundreds to thousands of devices may rely on wireless connectivity at a given facility. One simple overlooked variable within a wireless deployment can mean the difference between seamless connectivity and poor communication.

EXTEND has the proven expertise to deliver the full lifecycle of wireless services – from simple office deployments to challenging production and healthcare facilities. Whether it is designing a wireless solution from the ground up, installing new wireless hardware and infrastructure, or troubleshooting an existing deployment, our experienced project management staff and trained engineers will ensure your business benefits from full wireless versatility and mobility.

Wireless Services

On-site Survey

A wireless technician visits your site and utilizes industry standard tools to measure and report on the existing WLAN performance. Based on the survey findings, EXTEND provides customized best practice recommendations to improve your WLAN performance.

Wireless Design

Certified wireless engineers collaborate with you to determine your organization's needs and requirements. CTRL+V recommends access points / antenna hardware, as well as placement and configuration of the access points.

Installation

A certified project manager oversees the implementation and installation of all required wireless infrastructure, including access points, low voltage cabling and networking equipment.

Why choose EXTEND?

- Management of Complex Multi-Site, Global IT Engagements.
- In-House Expertise and Experience with Designing and Implementing WiFi networks.
- One-Stop-Shop for All Wireless Needs Including Design, Installation and Hardware
- Single Knowledge Point Throughout Project Lifecycle – From Kickoff to Completion
- PMP-Certified, Dedicated Project Managers
- Global Reach to Supply Services
- Flexible Contracts and Service Packages
- Commitment to 100% Customer Satisfaction